Tulare County Office of Education Announces:

700 Young Women to Participate in Expanding Your Horizons Conference College of the Sequoias – Saturday, October 13, 2007

For the second time this year, the Tulare County Office of Education and College of the Sequoias will host “Expanding Your Horizons” (EYH), a student event designed to encourage young women in grades four through eight to explore careers in the fields of mathematics, technology, science and engineering. Scheduled for Saturday, October 13 at College of the Sequoias, the conference showcases math and science-related fields in innovative and interesting ways. It also helps young women form personal contacts with women working in professions traditionally held by men, and allows them to meet other young women interested in math and science.

This year, Sarah Reyes, a former California Assemblymember and current Chief Executive Officer of the Community Food Bank in Fresno, will deliver the keynote address to a full conference of 700 young women beginning at 8:45 a.m. Following the morning address by Ms. Reyes, hands-on workshops and sessions will be presented by professional women from throughout the state.

Young women can explore careers and opportunities in the science and math fields by attending workshops such as, “Nursing is Fun,” “What Do Veterinarian Technicians Do?” and “Design a Shoe to Learn About Engineering.”

"It's important for young women to not only hear about careers based in math and science, but also to identify with the women who are serving in these fields," says Tulare County Superintendent of Schools Jim Vidak. “Expanding Your Horizons presents outstanding opportunities for both.”
