Tulare County Office of Education Announces:

65 projects to be displayed at “A Night at the 21st Century Museum”

TCOE holds third annual showcase of students mastering 21st Century learning skills using Project Based Learning

May 3, 2016 • 5:00 – 8:00 p.m. • Visalia Convention Center

On May 3, the Visalia Convention Center will be transformed into a showcase of student projects as part of an ongoing event entitled A Night at the 21st Century Museum. The free event will feature 65 documentaries, live performances, literacy projects, enterprise ventures and other exhibits from elementary, middle and high school student groups across the county. Student and teacher informational presentations and other interactive displays are also scheduled.

“Many Tulare County teachers and students are examining what it means to be 21st Century teachers and learners,” says Tulare County Superintendent of Schools Jim Vidak. “A Night at the 21st Century Museum is a place where we can further the discussions together as students, teachers, parents and communities.”
