Tulare County Office of Education Announces: Instructional Resources Available for Review

The Tulare County Office of Education invites the public to review and comment on Reading/Language Arts/English Language Development instructional resources up for adoption by the State of California. These materials, including textbooks, workbooks, videos and computer software and hardware, are housed at Educational Resource Services, 7000 Doe Avenue, Suite A, Visalia. The resources have been on public display since August 2001, in the Learning Resources Display Center. Members of the public may review the materials between the hours of 8-5pm, Monday through Friday.

Comments received prior to November 9, 2001 will be forwarded to the State Board of Education's Curriculum Commission for consideration during the adoption process. Comments made thereafter will be forwarded to the State Board of Education. Members of the public have the option of speaking at the public hearing of the Curriculum Commission and/or the State Board of Education. To do so, review the Commission and Board's agendas on the web at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/cc> and <http://www.cde.ca.gov/board>, respectively.

Please take the time to visit Educational Resource Services and review these very important instructional resources. A preview area has been set up which includes hardware necessary for reviewing any item in the adoption. Comment forms are available. For further information, please contact Steve Woods, LRDC #30, 651-3031 or steve@tcoe.org.
