DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Thank you all for attending this performance of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat! Our Theatre Company first performed this show in 2015, so you can call this group of almost 80 extremely talented Tulare County students our very own 10th Anniversary Cast!

Joseph is a show about having dreams, overcoming challenges, and growing through change to find forgiveness in others. Based on the biblical story of Jacob and his 12 sons, we witness the struggles of a big family with siblings trying to find their individuality and acceptance. Thousands of years later, those ideas still ring true. Our cast tells this story with a fresh pair of eyes, voices, and expression through dance and song. Since it's the 10th anniversary of our company producing this show, why not reinvent the wheel a little bit and give the whole look of the show a fresh new take!

To pull off a production like this, I extend my greatest thanks to the wonderful people I'm blessed to work and collaborate with. To our student and alumni crew and our parent chaperones, thank you! To our awesome VUSD technicians, Wyatt and Josh, you guys rock and make us look great on stage! My TCOE Stage and Space Collaborative coworkers: Nels, Mandy, Conan, Craig, Becca, Abbey, and especially McKenna and Bethany, thank you for everything you do for our students and for allowing me to be the artsy, emotionally-inspired creative mama that I am!

Many thanks to our wonderful Theatre Company families, past and present, and our boosters for their continued support and volunteerism. It takes a village to do what we do for our students! To my village: Gloriann, Adrienne, my amazing mom, and my Josephs, thank you! I'm always grateful and proud of the legacy of our program and the people who founded it, including Jim Vidak, Brian Roberts, and Nicole Zweifel. I'm especially grateful that our superintendent, Tim A. Hire, continues to support performing arts, especially when programs like ours are vital to helping students thrive, given all that art teaches!

You will see teamwork, collaboration, trust, and inspiration amongst this cast as you watch the show. We hope you have a fantastic time and can embrace the multitude of colors in the storytelling that make up Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat!

Enjoy the show!
