This workshop provides educators with the tools and knowledge needed to better support Long-Term English Learners (LTELs) by integrating language development into disciplinary content. Participants will explore evidence-based strategies designed to accelerate language acquisition and boost English proficiency, ensuring LTELs can meet reclassification criteria and succeed academically.

Key Goals:

- Understand the Unique Needs of LTELs: Explore the specific challenges LTELs face in language acquisition and academic content mastery.
- Integrate Language and Content Development: Learn how to embed language development into disciplinary content to support both language proficiency and academic success.
- Utilize High-Leverage Instructional Strategies: Engage with best practices that promote comprehension, active engagement, and purposeful language development in all four language domains: oracy (speaking), listening/comprehension, reading, and writing.

Participants will leave equipped with practical strategies and tools to enhance instruction and drive improved outcomes for LTEL students.
