Exploring Fractions Through Number Talks

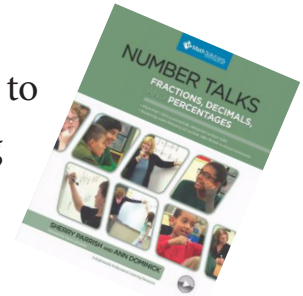

Grades 3-8

Number Talks are a 10-15 minute daily routine designed to build number sense through flexible computation strategies with the use of structured, student-centered conversations.

In this interactive workshop, participants will learn how to conduct fraction number talks that:

- Develop fractional reasoning
- Support students in understanding fraction operations
- Incorporate a variety of visuals
- Focus on students explaining their thinking

This session is perfect for those who are new to Number Talks or are interested in expanding their current routines to include problems with fractions.

The book, Number Talks: Fractions, Decimals, and Percentages, will be provided.
