Getting Started with Building Thinking Classrooms: A Thinking Student is an Engaged Student Grades K-12

Learn how to transform your classroom into an engaging setting for deep mathematical thinking and accelerated learning! Thinking Classrooms create optimal conditions for learner-centered, student-owned mathematics where students become responsible for doing the thinking.

Together, we will:

- Understand the research behind Building Thinking Classrooms and how it will help all students achieve at high levels
- Experience strategies to implement Building Thinking Classrooms practices through the student lens
- Engage in thinking tasks that you can immediately use with your students
- Envision your next steps in building your own Thinking Classroom!

The book, Building Thinking Classrooms in Mathematics, by Peter Liljedahl will be provided.
