Join us as we explore ways to transform your approach to math intervention. Equip yourself with the skills and knowledge to accelerate learning, build students' confidence, and help them achieve their full mathematical potential. Don't miss this opportunity to learn about evidence-based strategies to support mathematics intervention in whole-class or small-group settings.

Together we will:

- Discover the value of learning acceleration by gaining insight into the principles and benefits of traditional remediation methods.
- Explore evidence-based strategies tailored to meet diverse needs.
- Learn to leverage assessment data to identify key areas for intervention and monitor student progress.
- Investigate how to leverage students' strengths to develop purposeful scaffolding and build toward grade-level content.
