California Preschool/Transitional Kindergarten Learning Foundations

LANGUAGE AND LITERACY DOMAIN

The language abilities children develop in the first several years of life form the foundation for future language and literacy learning. Having a strong foundation in language and literacy in any language prior to kindergarten sets children up for strong reading comprehension in elementary school. Eventually, they will transition from learning to read to reading to learn.

During our interactive session, participants will:

- Review Foundational Language Development (FDL) and English Language Development (ELD)
- Engage in key developmentally appropriate strategies highlighted in the Language and Literacy Development (LLD)
- Explore how the Preschool/TK Learning Foundations (PTKLF) is representative and inclusive of children's cultures, languages, and lived experiences
